

THE MESSAGE

YOUR CAMP MEETING DAILY NEWSLETTER

FAMILY FEUD

BY GIANNA SNELL

There was excitement in the air in the Carter Hall Chapel on Sunday, June 10, as the SCC Family Ministries Department kicked off the first round of Family Feud! Under the direction of Elder John Nixon Sr., and his wife, the Family Ministries Department is hosting the week-long game show.

Two families went head to head yesterday in the first day of the game. The stage was set up with royal blue podiums and bright yellow accents to reflect the television version of Family Feud's theme colors and the game was hosted by Paul Nixon, the Nixon's youngest son.

hosted by Paul Nixon, the Nixon's youngest son.

"We wanted to do something fun for families this year at Campmeeting," explained Mrs. Nixon. "Doing the Family Feud was an idea that I had for this year because I truly believe that couples that pray AND play together, STAY together."

Earlier this year, the Family Ministries team sent surveys throughout the South Central Conference as well as to members of the Adventist Community to develop the survey questions.

The family that scores the most points in answering the survey questions advances to the Fast Money round, where two family members are selected to answer general Bible questions in a 30 second time frame.

The Rochez family from the Breath of Life Church in Memphis, TN were victorious yesterday and will advance to the next round. They were so excited about their prize, which was a large cooler on wheels that contained everything needed to go on a family picnic.

Eight families are competing to win the Grand Prize, a 4-day vacation for a family of 5, valued at $2,500, which will be awarded on Thursday.

The Family Ministries department invites all campers to come and be apart of the "studio audience" Monday-Thursday from 1:00-3:00 p.m. in Carter Hall's chapel.

"We love having fun!" said Mrs. Nixon, "We don't always have to be so stiff all the time. We hope that more people will come and have some fun meeting and connecting with other families."

SCC AJY CLUB DRUM CORE SHOWCASE

BY CHARITY JOHNSON

Bright & early Sunday morning, the AJY marched in a parade around Oakwood's campus while booming drum cores played in the back. Shortly after the parade, the Pathfinders along with other guests, gathered for a Drum Core Show Case. Various drill teams and drum cores, such as the Madison Mission's Pathfinders and the Berean Drum Core from Jackson, MS, showcased their many talents. Even an Adventurer drill team demonstrated how disciplined they can be. One of the bass players from the Berean Drum Core, Ian Taylor, described how he enjoys "playing the drums with like-minded people" and most of all, having fun. It certainly takes a lot of effort, dedication, and hard work to be fit for a drill team or drum core. Take the challenge to join one yourself.

Oakwood University, 7000 Adventist Boulevard
Northwest, Huntsville, AL

Monday
Isolated Thunderstorms

 89 °F | °C

Precipitation: 30%
Humidity: 60%
Wind: 6 mph

Temperature Precipitation Wind

TOMORROW'S ANNOUNCEMENTS

BY JOSEPH HYDE

- "Overcoming Stinking, Sinking Thinking" 10 a.m - 11:30 a.m
Edwards Hall Chapel
- "Stress and Relations"
11 a.m - 1p.m Carter Hall Chapel

Spouses Outing

Jesus Crave Concert

Spouses Outing

Youth after church

AJY

The SCC Family Feud game host, Paul Nixon, with winning family, the Rochez's.

Jesus Crave Concert

Dr. Summer Wood, principal of F.H. Jenkins Preparatory School in Nashville, TN, 2018 Principal of the Year Award.

Dr. Summer Wood, Principal of the Year Award Recipient

AJY

Elder & Mrs. Nixon, Family Life Ministries leaders, show the Rochez family what they won.

Youth after church